

Privacy Statement

Your privacy is very important to us at 'Believe' ~ Conference for a Cause and we respect your concerns about maintaining strict privacy. Any information that you divulge to us is kept in confidence.

We do not collect personally identifiable information on our web site or otherwise unless you choose to give it to us via an electronic mail message, a phone call, by registering for our Conference. Even when you choose to give us information, we keep it confidential.

We do not sell, rent, share, or otherwise disclose mailing lists or other personally identifiable information.

We maintain some records of individuals who contact us so that we may contact you later or provide further information to you in the future. We also maintain some records that enable us to process fees that you have agreed to pay in exchange for programs or services. However, we do not provide this information to anyone else unless you give us your permission in writing.
